ⁱ All newspapers that publish name change notices online leave it on the site in perpetuity. Some newspapers may send old notices to archives where they can only be accessed with a subscription.

ⁱⁱ Three weeks in total.

ⁱⁱⁱ Hancock News of Washington County is the only newspaper surveyed that claims to not publish name change notices online.

^{iv} The Salisbury Daily Times was the only newspaper that does not have set prices. A petitioner must send them a draft of their name change publication, and only then does the paper offer the customer a quoted price. The value listed was the estimate of the average.
